VIGOROUS FIGHT PLANNED IN NINTH

Opening Gun Will Be Fired at Gate City August 20—Popular Nominee Expected to Make Plain Answer to Veiled Attacks of Republicans.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Pulaski, Va., August 6.—By one of those peculiar coincidences which happen now and then in politics, the Democrats and Republicans of the Ninth District will launch their pending campaigns for Congress on the same day, though not at the same place.

As has been heretofore announced, Mr. Stuart will fire his opening gun at Gate City, the county seat of Scott, on August 20, just two weeks from today, and speaking with him at what promises to be a great Democratic rally will be Hon. Joseph C. Wysoor, of Pulaski, one of the most eloquent and brilliant orators west of the Alleghenies, whose fame as lawyer and platform speaker has reached to the utmost borders of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Slomp will open on the same day at Lebanon, the principal town in Mr. Stuart's home county, and though the plans of the Republicans for future speaking have not been announced, it is expected that the battle on both sides will from that time until November be conducted from the stump with the greatest possible vigor.

Mr. Stuart has been spending the past few weeks at his home in Russell, preparing to enter the campaign actively, and from what can be learned when he takes the stump he will strike straight from the shoulder and say some very plain things in answer to the veiled attacks that have been made upon him and his party in certain quarters during the preliminary stages of the fight.

Will Not Mince Words.
The reputation of the big, brawny Democratic leader for vigor and directness will, according to his friends, be thoroughly sustained when he takes the stump, and it is believed that he will have some things to disclose which will excite the interest and admiration of the fair-minded voters of the district.

DOCTORED WITHOUT RELIEF PERUNA SAVED HER

Mrs. Thomas Hoyer, R. F. D. No. 1, Montague, Mass., writes: "As I doctored over a year without any relief and kept getting worse, I gave up all hope of ever getting well again. I was all run down, could eat scarcely anything. I was nervous and had such terrible pains in my right side and shoulder.
"I cannot express how grateful I feel for Peruna."

trict, whether they be Democrats or Republicans.
Mr. Stuart's next engagement will be at Petersburg, the county seat of Giles, on Tuesday, August 9, but on this occasion he will not speak. He will simply shake hands with the people and confer with those who are in charge of his campaign in this little rockribbed Democratic stronghold.
At Gate City a great time is expected.
Mr. Stuart is exceptionally popular in Scott, and the Democratic leaders over there declare that they are going to give him and Mr. Wysoor such a reception as has not been accorded Democratic speakers in the Ninth District in many years. From this point these two popular leaders will go to Tazewell Courthouse, where they will speak again on Monday, August 22.

Swanson to Assist.
The next big Democratic day in the district will be September 5, when three important courts will be covered by popular orators. Mr. Stuart is billed to speak on that date at Jonesville, the county seat of Lee, and it is expected that Senator Swanson, who is being eagerly asked to come into all the counties of the district, will appear with him, and accompany him on the following day to Lebanon, which is in the home county of the Democratic nominee.

Other important announcements for September 5 were given out here tonight at Democratic headquarters.
Senator Martin and Hon. Jos. C. Wysoor will speak at Pulaski Courthouse on that date, and an appropriation for "Glass is billed to appear at the same time at Marion, the county seat of Smythe. Mr. Glass is one of the ablest campaign orators in the State, and he has been invited to make a before the battle is over.

Outside of Mr. Stuart's appointments, which other than those named above, are: Abingdon, September 28; Wise Courthouse, October 10, and Wytchville, October 17, these are all that have been definitely arranged by the Democratic committee up to this time, except one for Attorney General Samuel W. Williams at Dickinson Courthouse on September 27. Judge Williams is a prime favorite among his mountain constituents of the Southwest, and in response to the general demand for his services on the stump, he has not only joined the committee that he will go anywhere he may be wanted, at any time which may not conflict with his official engagements.

Flood Asked to Help.
Congressman Hal D. Flood, one of the crack orators of the Democratic side in Eastern Virginia, has been asked to come into the district, and make a number of speeches, as have also Jack Lee, the brilliant Lynchburg lawyer and Democratic orator, and former congressman H. St. George Tucker, who is a most captivating campaigner. Mr. Flood will very probably be assigned, among other things, to Gate City on September 27, and to Bristol on some night, either just before or just after that date.

Another East Virginia campaigner, who has seen service in many recent battles for the Democracy, and who has been invited to help the Democrats out in the Ninth, is Samuel L. Kelley, of Richmond. Mr. Kelley has frequently spoken in Southwest Virginia, and his work has proven highly effective.

Leaders Satisfied.
Democratic leaders declare that they are thoroughly satisfied with the situation at present, and that they confidently expect that Mr. Stuart will be elected to Congress by a perfectly majority. From all sections of the district encouraging reports are coming into their headquarters, and there appears to be little doubt that the overshadowing strength and popularity of their candidate has badly demoralized and confused the opposition.
Not a single Republican, so far as can be ascertained, is waverer, while many Republicans and Independents are known to be openly for Mr. Stuart.

A vast majority of the newspapers in the district are loyally supporting the Democratic nominee in their editorial columns, and in so doing it is believed that they are strongly reflecting the sentiment of the voters in the various counties.

Already on the Republican side, there have been some developments which Democratic editors and party managers believe indicate a disposition to evade the real issues of the campaign and to adopt denunciatory and "mud-slinging" tactics. The lowest order editorial foreboding uttered by the only Republican daily in the district, which practically declares in advance that any assertions yet to be made by the Democrats on any subject will be false.

"Every issue the Democrats have must needs be forced," and founded solely on distortion and perversion of the facts.

into the real "quagmire" of "beautiful politics" where they may sling mud to their soul's satisfaction.

Such a course, however, will not disturb the peace of mind of those in charge of Mr. Stuart's campaign. They intend to discuss the issues fairly before the people, and to bring the Republican nominee to the bar of public justice on his record with reference to the tariff and other questions involved, which were passed upon by him as a member of Congress.

Appealing directly to the people upon these issues, and upon the public record, the Democratic party, according to its leaders, enters the conflict with its forces united and with the most confidence in the final result.

WOULD TURN THEM OUT

Bryan Denounces Democrats Who Voted for Lorimer Lincoln, Neb., August 6.—In a statement published in his paper in reference to the meeting held recently in Lincoln, Ill., to protest against the legislative corruption, William J. Bryan declared that the Democratic legislature who voted to elect William Lorimer to the United States Senate should be read out of the Democratic party.
"Any Democrat who voted for Lorimer is a traitor to the people," he said.
"I am not a traitor to the people, but I am a traitor to the Democratic party." A Democratic legislator who could be convicted of such a crime was performing a patriotic duty in voting for Lorimer and he should be persuaded to do anything desired by a lobby—provided the same patriotic arguments were used. He is not fit for any representative position.
"It is hardly safe to allow him to run at large."
"Turn them out! The party cannot pause to defend those who are guilty or who, if innocent, have aroused suspicion which can never be removed."

CAPTAIN LAMB TO THE VOTERS

To the Democratic Voters of the Third Congressional District

On August 9, 1910, you will be called upon to decide who shall be your party nominee for Congress from the Third Congressional District. I have represented you in Congress for fourteen years and have tried faithfully to discharge the trust imposed in me. It has given me pleasure to serve my constituents whenever I could, and I have endeavored to guard and protect their interests in every way. During the fourteen years which I have been your representative the Democrats have been in the minority, yet I have succeeded in securing for my constituents valuable legislation beneficial to their interests. I will only mention a few things which I have accomplished for the people of the Third Congressional District.

Appropriations for the James River improvement which in the aggregate amount to about $1,000,000; appropriations for the building of the new postoffice in the city of Richmond, amounting to $100,000; appropriation for the building of the new post-office in the city of Manchester; free delivery of mails in the city of Manchester; prop-riation for reimbursing various churches damaged and destroyed during the Civil War; appropriation for the Richmond College of $25,000; appropriation of $60,000 for the Richmond Locomotive Works; appropriation of $3,000 to improve the National Cemetery Road; a large number of other legislative measures and many other things.

As above stated, these constitute but a few of the many matters which I have secured for my constituents. There are hundreds of voters in this district who cheerfully testify to the to the work which I have done for them and the service I have rendered them. The best evidence that I have tried to make you a good and faithful representative is found in the fact that over two hundred and twenty-five of the most prominent citizens of the city of Richmond (composed of merchants, bankers, lawyers, mechanics and laboring men) have voluntarily signed a petition endorsing my course in Congress and stating that I have been a faithful and efficient representative.

My opponent has made but one charge against me, and that is that I have voted for a tariff of one dollar per thousand feet on lumber. However, my opponent fails to tell you that the Dingley bill carried a tariff of two dollars per thousand feet on rough lumber and that the vote I gave was a reduction of seventy-five cents on each thousand feet. On the contrary, he makes the unqualified statement that "Captain Lamb voted repeatedly against any reduction on the lumber tariff." This statement is incorrect and should not have been made. The Democratic party is not now, and never has been, a free trade party. The lowest tariff it ever gave the country was the Walker tariff of 1846, and in that bill the rate on lumber was twenty per cent. ad valorem, which is equivalent to one dollar per thousand feet on lumber. This simple statement proves that I voted for a rate on lumber that was even less than a revenue basis. The Democratic party has always stood for a tariff for revenue and against special rates which would protect special interests. My vote on the tariff was in keeping with this principle. The fact is that the majority of the Virginia representatives voted as I did on this question, as did a number of the Democratic representatives from the Southern and Western States.

I have consistently and persistently opposed Republican principles and policies; have fought class legislation in every form; have stood at all times for equal rights to all and special privileges to none, and have opposed trusts and combines in every form; but to attribute the enormous high cost of living to the tariff exclusively is to betray one's ignorance of the present conditions, which is without excuse.
On many of the articles that make up this cost there is no tariff at all. The unprecedented exodus from the country to the city, thereby decreasing the producers and increasing the consumers, is one factor in the sum. The committee appointed by Congress to investigate this subject gives fifteen reasons for the high cost of living.
The output of gold and the increased volume of credit money based thereon has certainly raised the scale of prices the world over. It has always been and will so continue, whether the tariff be low or high.

I bitterly opposed the Republican "Payne-Aldrich tariff bill." Even the Republican party cannot defend its many exorbitant and inequitable rates.
That party is now boasting that it has been under arrest before on charges similar to those brought by Mrs. Bull, but his brother, Ignatius Qualey, served a year in the penitentiary because of his connection with Larry Summerfield in the Horse Shoe Copper Mining Company swindle.

He was released on $2,500 bail, but jumped his bond. Later, he was caught and turned State's evidence. As a reward for his services he was let off with a light sentence. Several years ago John Qualey and Ignatius form-

POLICE EXAMINE BOOKS OF SCHOOL

Found to Be Closely Identified With Magnesias Asbestos Company.

MRS. HOPKINS IN CONTROL Many New Facts Brought to Light in Alleged Stock Swindle.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, August 6.—That there was a close connection between the New York School of Applied Science for Women—Mrs. Ellen Dunlap Hopkins, president of the board of directors, and the Magnesias Asbestos Company, operated by John A. Qualey and Harvey Wiley Corbett, now under arrest on a charge of swindling Mrs. Marie Nevins Bull out of $25,000, was shown to-day when the police completed an examination of the books of the school. These books show that most of the investors in the stock of the Magnesias Asbestos Company were associated in one way or another with the "Italian shoe" enterprise promoted by Mrs. Hopkins.
The greatest work accomplished by Mrs. Hopkins in connection with her school was the raising of a building fund of a quarter of a million dollars, which is now represented by the institution at Thirtieth Street and Lexington Avenue. Toward this fund, John D. Rockefeller gave $25,000, and J. Pierpont Morgan, $15,000. John A.
Qualey appears on the books as contributor to the extent of $7,000, not in money, but in building materials.
Qualey also appears on the books as a director of the school, and his partner, Corbett, is listed as an instructor and a member of the library committee.

Kept in Control.
That Mrs. Hopkins kept herself in absolute control of the school, however, is shown by the fact that she holds all of the important offices. Not only is she president, but she is also the chairman of the board of directors, chairman of the advisory committee, a member of the art committee, a patron by virtue of a contribution of $3,700 in 1892, and the founder of a perpetual scholarship. The scholarship costs $50 a year to the donor. The record of the honors is expected to pay $75 additional. Mrs. Preston Satterwater, who invested $5,000 in the stock of the Magnesias Asbestos Company, is also the founder of a perpetual scholarship in Mrs. Hopkins's school. It was known after she became interested in the work of the school that Mrs. Hopkins told her about the wonderful company founded by Qualey and advised her to invest. She is said to be as anxious now for the $100,000 as she was when as Mrs. Bull is for the money she invested.

Mrs. Romulus R. Colgate appears on the books for the school as an associate member. This honor costs $10 a year. It was Mr. Colgate who secured the ball for Qualey and Corbett through a surety company several days ago.
Mr. Colgate is a friend of Corbett.
He is said to have invested $20,000 in the Magnesias Asbestos Company as the result of a talk his wife had with Mrs.
Hopkins. Mr. Colgate has not yet lost faith in Corbett and Qualey. He is said to still believe that there is a chance of the Magnesias Asbestos Company's success.

Dana R. Pond, who is now in Europe with Mrs. Hopkins, appears on the books of the School of Applied Science as an instructor. Mr. Pond has repeatedly given interviews abroad to the effect that the school was a success and that the time Mr. Mc-Intyre was badgering her in court, the other day, she realized that he was being paid for his work out of her money. The last $500 of her funds that Qualey and Corbett drew out of the bank by check went to Mr. McIntyre in the form of a retainer.
In addition to the blank checks found on Qualey at the time of his arrest, he also had a $1,000 bond of the Magnesias Asbestos Company and a certificate for 12,275 shares of the company, made out in the name of his wife, and indorsed over to him.
The police say that at the time they arrested Qualey he was waiting for a wealthy man who was going to buy this stock.

CHOLERA SCOURGE IS CAUSING PANIC

Disease Spreads Rapidly, and Approaches Great Epidemic of 1908.

THOUSANDS ARE DYING

First Case Reported From House in Which Bubonic Plague Started.

St. Petersburg, August 6.—Russia's scourge, the cholera, continues to spread with most alarming rapidity, particularly in the Southern mining districts and in St. Petersburg, where the conditions are fast approaching the proportions of the great epidemic of 1908. Figures furnished to-day by the General Sanitary Bureau show that in the week ending July 24, 1910, the latest available complete records, there were 15,244 cases of cholera and 6,944 deaths. Of these, 4,780 cases and 2,223 deaths were reported from the Province of Yekaterinoslav and the territory of the Don Cossacks in Southern Russia. A report from the United Mine Owners' Association covering forty-eight mines and four foundries gives 2,870 cases and 1,250 deaths.

The extent of the panic among the miners is shown by figures furnished from eighteen mines, from which 18, 000 of the 48,000 employees have fled.
In answer to the appeal of the association for special measures to check the epidemic and stem the panic, the government to-day decided to send to St. Petersburg a special commission to study the situation and empowered to organize sanitary preventive work. The mine owners, it is announced, will bear a considerable part of the expense of fighting the scourge. The provincial assembly of Yekaterinoslav to-day assigned $200, 000 for the cause.

Advices from Yekaterinoslav report that the transport of the crops is at a standstill. The epidemic continues to make enormous progress in the capital, where the daily average of cases, with last week's thirty, Yesterday 132 cases or suspected cases of cholera were taken to the hospitals, and there were thirty deaths.
The hospitals now contain 982 cases of cholera. The high record of bubonic plague at Odessa, however, against which Austria, Rumania, Bulgaria and Turkey have instituted strict quarantines, is not spreading. Only one suspected case was reported yesterday, after a two days' interval. General Tolmachoff, the prefect of Odessa, has thrown a cordon of troops and police around the infected ward of the city, and allows no one to pass in or out except the doctors assigned to fight the plague. It is a noteworthy fact that the cases of the plague were first reported from a bakery in the same house in which the epidemic of bubonic plague started in 1902.

Odessa has been afflicted with a scourge of rats since May, and the infectious measures taken to kill off the rodents by the authorities is blamed for the present outbreak.
